Le Mois de la Photo à Montréal : Pavel Pavlov and Jim Campbell

From September 10 to October 24, 2009

Pavel Pavlov. Every Bit of Landscape Beyond the Cloverleaf Interchange (Frankfurter Kreuz, Frankfurt, Germany), 2009.

In collaboration with Le Mois de la Photo à Montréal, organized around the theme The Spaces of the Image, SBC presents Pavel Pavlov's Every Bit of Landscape Beyond the Cloverleaf Interchange (Frankfurter Kreuz, Frankfurt, Germany). An extension of his landscape work begun in 2004, Pavlov reinforces his connection to the art of the 1960s and '70s. He proposes a projection array simplifying the visual space of a car navigating through a cloverleaf interchange ad infinitum. The Curator Gaëlle Morel describes his work as "an optical device that reconstructs space using the simultaneous perception of several viewpoints".

Jim Campbell. Street Scene 1, 2006, Street Scene 4, 2006-2008 and Bus Stop, 2003.

Jim Campbell (San Francisco) presents four multimedia installations comprised of Bus Stop (2003) and the series Street Scenes (2006-2008). Drawing on urban visuals and innovative technology, Campbell juxtaposes moving and fixed images and creates luminous animation. Commenting on the range of reactions that Campbell's work tend to trigger among spectators, Ms. Morel explains that "by electronically controlling the resolution and speed of the videos, the artist prohibits an immediate understanding of the projected elements, reducing the intelligibility of the scenes to signals that are barley legible".
